THE WIZARD ABAZ

Once upon a time, there was a diligent Carribean medical student named Dorothy, who worked very, very hard all day and all night, she studied, studied, studied.

One day while she labored over her books, a tropical storm, Hurricane Sherif arose and wisked Dorothy off to a strange new land.

She awoke to find herself in Philly at MCP. The Good Witch then sent Dorothy toward Allegheny, home of the Great Wizard Abaz.

Off she skipped to the tune of "Follow Route 76, Follow Route 76", soon on her journey down the interstate she met Scary Peitzman. Further along in their travel, a disgruntled Tinman Paraino in search of a heart joins the others on their quest to Abaz.

Suddenly, in the land of opportunistic infections out popped Puglia Lion coughing between puffs on a large Stogie. Obviously, in dire need of Cigarest, he too joins the others.

Upon arrival in Pittsburgh, Dorothy discovers she must first accomplish a formidable task, she must "READ, READ, READ" before meeting with the Great Wizard Abaz. So, with her friends pulling for her, many long hard nights, and gallons and gallons of coffee, Dorothy passes the Boards.

Counsel with the Great Wizard Abaz is granted... "most importantly", speaks the Wise and Wonderful Abaz, "is to maintain a POSITIVE ATTITUDE"...

On that note, Dorothy, Puglia Lion, Scary Peitzman and Tinman Piraino live happily ever after.

OK smarty, go to a party
You drink too much, next day you show up tardy
Exams roll around, you're feelin' pretty sporty
But you should have studied, 'cause you got a forty.

Nurses yakin', patients gackin'
Next thing you know, your ass is sent packin'
You run outa there without a second to lose
It's enough to drive you to HIT THE BOOZE!

Some bugs are sadistic, others are cystic
Lookin' for a host makes them opportunistic
You run to the bathroom as fast as you can
And in case you don't make it, you bring a bed pan.

So down the hall you're strollin', wheelchairs rollin'
Get some treatment for that spastic colon.
You get so mad you could blow a fuse
This place can drive you to HIT THE BOOZE!

From frustration, first inclination
Is to go to law school and leave this situation.
But every med student knows that lawyers suck
They'd sue their own mother just to make a buck.

You think you're mellow, real fine fellow
But after four years your mind turns to jello.
This ain't the job I meant to choose
Sometimes I just want to HIT THE BOOZE!

CLASS OF 1992

No one said it would be easy...

Our metamorphosis began at orientation in August, 1988 with Debbie Shain matching us by personality traits (I'm an ESTJ, how about you?!). The culmination and recognition of your arduous journey through medical school occurred on that fateful graduation day May 16, 1992 when that M.D. behind our names would change our lives forever. Hurrah! WE SURVIVED! Memories... some of them cynical, some comical, but all part of our time together.

- the cheating scandal of freshman year when the actions of a few tainted the reputation of an entire class.
- the almost impossible semester of Path and Micro when it seemed that the sun had forgotten to shine.
- We contested "the powers that be" to prevent an MCP merge with Hahnemann... AND WON!
- We spent almost $450 (that we had borrowed at 10%) on medical equipment which already hangs in almost every examining room.
- BOARDS, PART I ...nuff said (and remember, we paid for the privilege!).
- The shock of hitting the floors third year, working hard to dispel the commonly held myth that our class was nothing more than a collection of goof-offs.
- Some of us traveled to Pittsburgh, welcoming free room and board with open arms.
- We collected as a class at the end of third year to once again sharpen our #2 pencils and play color the dots
- THE BOARDS, PART II...more than nuff said.
- We were sobered with the callous political reality of Big Business when we suddenly lost our Dean of Students without warning, consideration or explanation....
- The obnoxious paper chase of the application process... who owns a typewriter these days, anyway?!
- Fourth year found us scattered across the country and around the world in search of the "perfect rotation" all the while making crucial career and life decisions.
- Interviews, rank lists...MATCH DAY! The moment of truth after 4 years of blood, sweat and tears.
- Graduation...a formality at which no one wanted to speak but at which we all wanted to shout for joy.

Medical school has dealt us some hard knocks, but we persevered and hence are better prepared for the painful lessons ahead during residency. Our future holds promises and much more knowledge to gain. We'll face the challenges of medicine daily, a profession unique in its dilemmas and exhausting in its demands. It wouldn't be easy to find a group as diverse as the Class of '92, but our differences have served us well. Would we do it over again? That's an individual decision each of us must reach on our own. Good luck to one and all.

A Fresh Fairytale

Once upon a time there was a med student named Freshmenella. She lived in a library in a kingdom not so far away. Her wicked step-instructors were always loading her down.

"Freshmenella!" they cried, tossing Grant's Atlas at her, "Memorize this by Monday! Do the laundry! Buy groceries! Get some sleep! You look awful!"

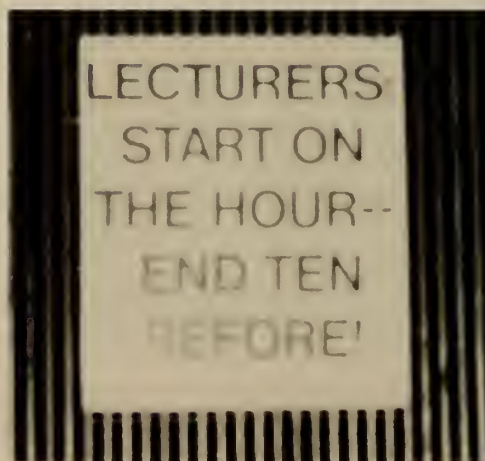

Freshmenella toiled ceaselessly, running from Ann Preston to Petersen, skipping lunch, studying 'til dawn. One day, too exhausted to change her scrubs, Freshmenella dropped her 42 books and sighed,

"When do I get to have fun?"

Then, she heard a voice.

"It gets better, I promise."

To be continued . . .

*This is your day "Joey"
a memory to preserve.
A day for you to reap rewards
you surely do deserve.
You've shown intelligence and ambition
the four years through.
These traits you do possess
and this we always knew.
You have reached a high goal
both in life and career.
You are a Doctor of Medicine
your success is truly here.
For days to be proud, this is certainly one

Erin, you've finally reached that goal you set for yourself when you were in grade school. We are so proud of you for "sticking to your guns."

Love, your Mom and Dad

Dear Erin,

We know you will make a very gentle, caring and compassionate doctor. We're very proud of you.

Love, Megan and Mike

Dear Erin, How exciting it is for us that you're following the McCall tradition of becoming a professional person. Since the Civil War days, the immediate family has been composed of 4 physicians, 6 dentists and 1 pharmacist. Congratulations on your achievements!

Love, Granddad and Amy

Dear Erin,

We're very impressed with your accomplishments and look forward, with you, to the day when you'll be back in Arizona, delivering babies and eating salsa and chips with us. Olé!
